

The Straumann® dental implants and dental implant abutments have not been evaluated for safety and compatibility in the MR environment. They have not been tested for heating, migration, or image artifact in the MR environment. The safety of Straumann® dental implants and dental implant abutments in the MR environment is unknown. Scanning a patient who has this device may result in patient injury.